

Reuben Abel papers

Collection, NA000301

About

These papers document the academic career of Reuben Abel (1911-1997), beginning with his undergraduate study at Columbia College and doctoral philosophy studies in the Graduate Faculty of the New School for Social Research, through his professorship at the university. It includes course notes and syllabi, and material documenting his student activities, such as his role as founder and editor of the New School student magazine, 12th Street: A Quarterly.

Abel's papers reflect his position within the Graduate Faculty, consisting of correspondence with colleagues and deans, appointment letters, faculty minutes, and committee documents; in addition to his role as instructor and advisor to students, consisting of lecture notes, thesis committee work and doctoral exam requirement reviews. Contains one annotated typescript of his work, Man Is the Measure.

Collection Guide

Guide to the Reuben Abel papers

There's more! What you see here is only what is viewable online; in most cases it is only a small portion of what is available. Please visit the collection guide to find out more.

---

Collection Contents

Reuben Abel papers (3 records)

12th Street Editor's Notes on Contributors and Assignments

12th Street Editor's Notes on Contributors, Expenses, and Distribution

Vita

Series III. Student papers (3 records)

12th Street Editor's Notes on Contributors, Expenses, and Distribution

12th Street Editor's Notes on Contributors and Assignments

Vita

12th Street: A Quarterly (3 records)

12th Street Editor's Notes on Contributors and Assignments

12th Street Editor's Notes on Contributors, Expenses, and Distribution

Vita